Livermore Valley Winegrowers Honor Members and Partners, Welcome 2020-2021 Board of Directors

Livermore Valley, Calif. (March 2, 2020)—At the annual meeting of the Livermore Valley Winegrowers Association (LVWA), members gathered to recognize contributions and look back on the achievements of 2019, including national exposure on NBC's Today Show and in USA Today, the identification of 12 growing districts within the region and other strategic marketing efforts. The LVWA is dedicated to advancing, protecting and promoting the quality wines, vineyards and experiences of Livermore Valley Wine Country.

Led by Executive Director Chris Chandler, the LVWA presented the following member awards to recognize exemplary partnership and support:

- Winery Member of the Year: Las Positas Vineyards (accepted by Lisa Maier, owner)
- Community Partner of the Year: Pedego Electric Bikes of Livermore (accepted by owners Loretta and Jim Buck)
- Affiliate Member of the Year: Grandflow Inc. (accepted by Matt Rusca, president)

Livermore Mayor John Marchand installed the LVWA 2020-2021 Board of Directors. Alexandra Henkelman, owner and winemaker at Omega Road Winery, continues as president of the board. Other board members include:
